Biography:

The Prince of Chaos' journey as a performer began in 2014, one week after graduating basic training for the Army National Guard. He returned home and went out to a bar in New Paltz called Oasis Cafe, where he met DJ DangerBoy. Instantly seeing potential, DangerBoy decided to take him under his wing. He began performing with DangerBoy all over New Paltz, DJing paint parties, drag shows, college parties and all other forms of nightlife. After a few years he drifted from New Paltz seeking to expand.

The Prince of Chaos began working with the Krowd Kings & L-Squad in 2017, who began mentoring him as a DJ and eventually as a producer. Along his travels, he re-discovered his fascination for photography and videography. In 2020, TPNS Records recognized his passion for the media arts and appointed him Media Coordinator for the label. He began making recap videos, coordinating photoshoots, and directing music videos. He would move on to directing documentaries, short films and live DJ sessions.
